1. General information only

The information made available on the Corelynx website, mobile application, dashboard, marketing materials, and related digital channels is provided for general information and business convenience only. Although Corelynx makes reasonable efforts to keep its content accurate and current, no statement on the website should be treated as a guarantee that every detail will remain complete, current, or error-free at all times.

2. Service availability and coverage

Service availability depends on route conditions, operational capacity, security considerations, weather, public restrictions, and other practical factors. A service described on the website may not be available in every location or at every time, and service coverage may change without notice where necessary for safety, legality, or operational efficiency.

3. Delivery timelines and estimates

Any stated delivery times, estimated arrival windows, status updates, or route indications are operational estimates unless Corelynx has expressly agreed to a written service-level commitment. Delays may occur for reasons beyond Corelynx's direct control.

4. Vendor execution

Corelynx may use approved third-party logistics partners and Vendors to fulfil orders. The use of such service partners does not create a direct contractual relationship between the client and the Vendor. Clients remain contractually engaged with Corelynx for services ordered through the platform.

5. Tracking, status, and technology-related information

Tracking data, delivery statuses, notifications, maps, timestamps, and dashboard information are useful operational tools, but they depend on technology, connectivity, device performance, user input, and third-party systems. Corelynx therefore does not guarantee that such information will always be instantaneous, perfectly precise, or uninterrupted.

6. Third-party links and services

The Corelynx platform may contain links to or integrate with third-party payment providers, map services, cloud platforms, analytics tools, APIs, or other software. Corelynx is not responsible for the content, availability, security, terms, or privacy practices of those third-party services.

7. No professional advice

Nothing on the website constitutes legal, tax, insurance, investment, or other professional advice. Anyone who needs professional advice should obtain it from an appropriately qualified adviser.

8. No waiver

A failure by Corelynx to enforce any right, policy, or remedy at one time does not amount to a waiver of its right to do so later.

9. Governing documents

Use of the Corelynx website and services remains subject to the applicable Terms of Service, Privacy Policy, Cookie Notice, and any specific written contract entered into with Corelynx. Where a signed contract differs from a website statement, the signed contract prevails.
